

HISTORY, BA

The History program has a deep commitment to the study of urban, cultural, and social history with special attention given to the areas of gender, race, class, and historical grass-roots social movements. In this program, students come to appreciate how historical knowledge reveals humanity's common bonds as well as its distinctive tapestries.

Moreover, as Marcus Cicero observed, history "illuminates reality, vitalizes memory, provides guidance in daily life, and brings us the tidings of antiquity." An understanding of history thus illustrates how past values and experiences inform today's world. This understanding helps people forge a sense of identity and create blueprints from which to construct a community.

Transformational learning, internships, and study abroad opportunities prepare students for graduate school as well as life in an increasingly interconnected and complex world in diverse fields that include education, law, business, journalism, and not-for-profit organizations. Small class sizes encourage deep critical engagement with faculty and fellow students. The program focuses on history from a local and national as well as global perspective and offers undergraduate sequences in the fields of African American, European, Latin American and United States history, with individual courses in other fields. Students in the History program may also take advantage of a seminar course offered at the Newberry Library, as well as the resources of the university's Center for New Deal Studies and the St. Clair Drake Center for African and African American Studies.

Requirements

- Eleven courses in history with an overall GPA of 2.0 and no grade lower than C-.
- At least 15 credit hours must be taken at Roosevelt.
- At least 12 credit hours must be at the 300 level.
- Students should work with their advisor to ensure that they take HIST 280 TOPICS IN HISTORIOGRAPHY AND METHODOLOGY in their sophomore or junior year, as this course will prepare students to write their 300-level research and writing assignments.
- History has no foreign language requirement, but students intending to do graduate study in history or whose interest is in the study of a foreign culture are strongly advised to take at least two years of a foreign language.
- Transfer students may substitute a Western civilization survey for HIST 111 THE WORLD TO 1500 and HIST 112 THE WORLD SINCE 1500.

Your degree map is a general guide suggesting courses to complete each term on the academic pathway to your degree. It is based on the most current scheduling information from your academic program. Your program's degree map is reviewed annually and updated as schedules change (although you retain the same course requirements as long as you are continuously enrolled in your degree program).

Always work closely with your academic advisor to understand curriculum requirements and scheduling, as each student's academic plan can look slightly different.
