

PARALEGAL STUDIES, POST-BACCALAUREATE CERTIFICATE

Program Description

The Post-Baccalaureate Paralegal Certificate is a non-credit certificate designed for college graduates who wish to pursue careers in the legal profession. According to recent information provided by the United States Department of Labor, the current high demand for paralegal services is expected to continue for at least the next several years. Roosevelt University's Paralegal Studies Program, approved by the American Bar Association since 1976, is one of the Midwest's premier paralegal education programs. The program enjoys an excellent reputation in the legal community and its comprehensive curriculum, hands-on faculty, and experienced administration prepares students to meet this demand. Upon successfully completing the program, students receive a Certificate in Paralegal Studies and have practical legal skills, enabling them to assume paralegal responsibilities with confidence.

Paralegals are professionals who are qualified through education, training and work experience to perform essential legal work. They work with attorneys to provide economical, quality legal services and to make legal services more available to the general public. Paralegals perform a wide range of tasks including conducting interviews with clients and witnesses, gathering facts, researching the law, managing databases, assembling records, analyzing documents, drafting legal pleadings, drafting discovery items such as complaints and interrogatories, and maintaining conflict-of-interest systems. Experienced paralegals often accompany counsel during trial and help with document organization, witness preparation, and research. Paralegals may not provide legal services directly to the public, except as permitted by law. For more information on the paralegal profession and our program, please visit the program's website (<https://www.roosevelt.edu/academics/programs/post-baccalaureate-certificate-in-paralegal-studies/>).

Program Goals and Objectives

The goal of the program is to provide education and training that prepares students for the paralegal profession. The following objectives support this goal.

1. Understand the basic concepts of substantive and procedural law including the operation of the legal system and the theory of law.
2. Be able to work competently as a paralegal under the supervision of an attorney, including proficiency in using legal technology and software.
3. Understand the ethical obligations of a paralegal.
4. Contribute to the advancement of the paralegal profession.

Curriculum

The curriculum is composed entirely of law courses. Instruction focuses on procedural and practical aspects of the profession. The program surveys paralegal employers, current students, and graduates to receive their insights on the curriculum and the needs of the legal community. The program also receives guidance from its board of advisors, composed of leading educators and legal community members. Students will know legal terminology, concepts, and procedures and will gain skills to draft various legal documents. Students learn how to conduct legal research using both Lexis and Westlaw (commonly used legal databases). They will learn about litigation support and e-discovery applications. Students will also be better prepared for the rigors of law school and may participate in an internship course as part of their curriculum.

Course Schedules

The Paralegal Studies Program offers a variety of scheduling options making it possible for students to complete the program in 9 to 18 months; including, the option to complete the program fully online. Both full-time and part-time schedules are available. Courses are conveniently offered on-campus, fully online (asynchronous), and remotely (synchronous). Remote courses are offered on weekday evenings and sometimes combine live (synchronous) class sessions with online (asynchronous) instruction. Daytime courses (weekdays) are offered in-person, on campus in Chicago.

The delivery format of each course is determined by the program and the schedules meet American Bar Association guidelines with respect to online delivery of legal specialty courses. Pursuant to ABA guidelines, students must take at least nine semester credits or the equivalent of legal specialty courses through synchronous instruction. For more information about schedule options, contact program director, Carrie Lausen (<https://www.roosevelt.edu/profile/clausen/>).

Admission

Applicants for the post-baccalaureate certificate must hold a bachelor's degree in any discipline from an accredited institution; previous training in the law is not necessary. The program suggests an undergraduate grade point average of at least 2.5 on a 4.0 scale. Official transcripts from all undergraduate and graduate institutions, along with a completed Non-Degree Certificate online application (<https://applyru.roosevelt.edu/apply/>), statement of intent and resume must be submitted. Letters of recommendation and an interview may also be requested. For questions or an appointment, contact Carrie Lausen (<https://www.roosevelt.edu/profile/clausen/>).

Lambda Epsilon Chi, National Paralegal Honor Society

Roosevelt University maintains a chapter of Lambda Epsilon Chi (LEX), a national paralegal honor society founded by the American Association for Paralegal Education. Members are inducted in April and October of each year and receive a commemorative certificate and membership pin. Their names are entered into the permanent records of the Lambda Epsilon Chi national paralegal honor society.

Requirements

Eight courses are required to complete the post-baccalaureate certificate (non-credit). Students must earn a grade of 70 percent or better in each course in order to earn their certificate. Grades are issued on the basis of honors (90 percent or higher), pass (70 percent through 89 percent), and fail (less than 70 percent). Students can earn a Certificate with Honors by completing seven of the eight required courses in the program with a grade of honors.
