AFS 364 - WHITE CITY & BLACK METROPOLIS
Chicago constructed the White City to host the world during the 1893 Columbian Exposition. A half-century later, two prominent African American sociologists called the same city the Black Metropolis. This course will interrogate the spaces between these metaphors across a century of Chicago history. Chronological topics will include: the birth of the city as Nature's Metropolis; the Chicago Fire; the Exposition; the Haymarket affair; the Great Migration and 1919 riot; ethnic neighborhood associations of the 1920s; Depression radicalism and unionism in the 1930s; the greater migration of the 1940s, housing crises during the 1950s and beyond; civil rights and Black Power; and the shift from the "plantation politics" of Richard J. Daley in the 1960s to the election of the anti-machine candidate Harold Washington in the 1980s. Students taking this course will read secondary materials and conduct primary source research in local archives to analyze and discuss the power and construction of racial identity to better understand the rich and complex urban history of Chicago.
