HSAD 250 - PUBLIC HEALTH ISSUES AND IDEAS
This course provides students with an understanding of concepts and tools for measuring health in populations. In addition they will be able to comprehend and characterizes the relationship of the public health system with medical care and other elements of the overall health system and identify the government's unique contributions through federal, state, and local public health agencies. Public health broadly involves an array of biological, environmental, social, cultural, behavior, and service utilization factors that are all associated with health. Underlying this is an understanding that the success or failure of the collective actions and decisions thus we are all accountable to each other in order to produce the best results. To that end the class, through case studies, will also focus on ways in which positive changes can be made in order to improve these systems and individuals within them in order to move them towards improved quality and quantity of health for all.
Credits: 3
Prerequisites: ENG 102

HSAD 351 - INTRODUCTION TO HEALTH SERVICES
This course provides an overview of health care organizations, health care providers and on-going health care issues within the United States and other health care delivery systems. It uses a system framework that ties together the numerous components of these health care systems. An emphasis will be given to the ways in which the differing systems histories affect their responses to change. The class will also focus on ways in which positive changes can be made in order to improve these systems and move them towards quality patient-centered care.
Credits: 3
Attributes: Social Science

HSAD 352 - HEALTH POLICY
Health policy examines the development by government and other policy makers of present and future objectives pertaining to health care and the health care system. It will focus on the articulation of arguments and decisions regarding these objectives in legislation, judicial opinions, regulations, guidelines, standards, and key health policy influences that affect health care and public health. This includes the role of economic, technological, social, cultural and other influences on policy development; and the effects of resulting policies, guidelines, standards and protocols.
Credits: 3
Prerequisites: ENG 102

HSAD 353 - MEDICAL ETHICS AND THE LAW
Administrative concerns regarding ethical and legal aspects of the delivery of health services. Extensive use of case studies.
Credits: 3
Course Notes: Completion of 60 credit hours required.

HSAD 355 - MANAGING AND MARKETING INTEGRATED SERVICE NETWORKS
This course will provide an overview to integrated delivery systems as they affect health care delivery and policy. It will also provide an understanding of how to manage and market these systems.
Credits: 3